

NAVAL DOCKYARDS SOCIETY PUBLICATIONS TRANSACTIONS VOLUMES 1-9

AUTHOR INDEX

Author	Title	Volume.Page No
Black, John	The Naval Defence Act 1889 & its effect on the construction of Gibraltar HM Dockyard	2.65
Blakemore, Richard	Parliament, Royal Dockyards and the London Maritime Community: the Aftermath of the 1648 Naval Revolt	8.31
Brabander, Richard	Intersections of interest: a prosopographical analysis of restoration privateering enterprise	8.87
Breen, Ken	Second relief of Gibraltar 1781, Gibraltar as a strategic pivot	2.47
Buchet, Christian	The development of Victualling Board bases in London, Portsmouth, Plymouth, Chatham and Dover (1701–1763)	4.53
Clark, Celia	Adaptive re-use and the Georgian storehouses of Portsmouth: naval storage to museum	4.27
Clark, Celia	Dockyards in visual art, art in dockyards: celebrated as sites of national pride expressing the ‘beauty of utility’, pride in craft skills and foci of new artistic activity	9.44
Clark, Celia	Naval hospitals: history and architectural overview	6.65
Clark, Celia	Vintage ports: lessons in the renewal of historic dockyards: an international perspective	3.89
Coad, Jonathan	“To serve the fleet in distant waters”: buildings of the Georgian Royal Navy’s overseas bases	5.51
Coats, Ann	Building Victory : bureaucracy, logistics and the sinews of war	7.9
Coats, Ann	English naval administration under Charles I – top-down and bottom-up – tracing continuities	8.9
Coats, Ann	Epilogue: Rosia Water Tanks, Gibraltar	2.81
Coats, Ann	Some notes on conference discussions	5.97
Coats, Ann	The block mills: new labour practices for new machines?	1.59
Cock, Randolph	At war with the worm: the Royal Navy’s fight against the shipworm and barnacle 1708–1793	3.9
Crimmin, Pat	The shortage of surgeons and surgeons’ mates c. 1740–1806: “An evil of a serious nature to the service”	6.49
Davies, J. David	Chatham to Erith via Dover. Charles II’ s secret foreign policy & the project for new Royal Dockyards	8.113
Davies, J. David	Gibraltar in British naval strategy, c 1600–1783	2.9
Davies, J. David	The dog in the night-time: dockyards in the genre of naval historical fiction	9.13
Davies, J. David	“The strongest island in the whole world”. Aspects of Anglo-Maltese naval relations in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries	5.73
Dawson, Peter	Admiralty and Navy Board letters to Chatham officers 1712–1716	3.57

Dawson, Peter	The Chatham Master Attendant's Letter Book 1811–14	4.39
Doull, Ian	Problems in the preservation of historic resources, HMC Dockyard, Canadian Forces Base Esquimalt, British Columbia	3.103
Drabble, Stuart	Templer & Parlby: eighteenth century dockyard contractors	6.93
Endsor, Richard	The women of Restoration Deptford	8.77
Ferrari Bravo, Martino	The Nautical School of Venice of 1739 and the English teachers. Navigation training in Venice: between seamanship and science	5.39
Fox, Frank L.	The London of 1656: her history and armament	8.57
Frendo, Henry	Strategy, economics and politics: the naval dockyard in Malta and the Mediterranean	5.65
Goodwin, Peter	The application and scheme of paintworks in British men-of-war during the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries	9.83
Goodwin, Peter	Building the 100 gun ship Victory 1759–1765	7.69
Goodwin, Peter	Preparing HMS Victory and the ships for Trafalgar	1.31
Gwyn, Julian	The Halifax Naval Yard before 1820	5.15
Harding, Richard	Large scale ship movement and its operational impact, 1739–1748	7.37
Harding, Richard	A tale of two sieges: Gibraltar 1726–1727 and 1779–1782	2.31
Harland, Kathleen	Naval surgeons afloat and ashore, 1700–1750	6.9
Hawkins, Duncan with Butler, Caroline and Skelton, Andrew	The iron slip cover roofs of the Royal Dockyards 1844–1857	9.65
Jolly, Rick	John Hunter at Belle-Île (1761): a Falklands rehearsal	6.57
Kirkup, John	Maritime surgical practice in the seventeenth century	6.39
Lambert, Andrew	Science and sea power: the Navy Board, the Royal Society and the structural reforms of Sir Robert Seppings	1.9
Le Fevre, Peter	Balthazar St Michel, Gibraltar and the English Mediterranean fleet	2.19
Lumas, Susan	HMS Victory : sightings in the Naval Dockyards Society's Navy Board Project	7.83
Lumas, Susan	Sightings of surgeons in the Naval Dockyards Society's Navy Board Project	6.75
Macdonald, Janet	The Victualling Yard at Gibraltar and its role in feeding the Royal Navy in the Mediterranean during the Revolutionary and Napoleonic Wars	2.55
MacDougall, Philip	Blame it on the Chartists. Three dockyard fires of 1840	5.9
MacDougall, Philip	Disuniting the work force – intensifying the dockyard labour crisis of 1941	2.73
MacDougall, Philip	Harbour navigation and moorings of naval dockyards in the Atlantic region	4.69
MacDougall, Philip	The naval arsenals of the Knights of St John	3.65
MacDougall, Philip	Reforming the dockyards. The Whig experience of 1832	4.9

Mauranen, Katariina	The block mills and public history: reinterpreting the navy's industrial revolution	7.57
Mazeika, Chris	Pearls before swine. A history of the Great Storehouse at Deptford	3.125
Mercieca, Simon	"Beyond the capacity of a small island". A review of unpublished research by W. A. Griffith on Maltese dockyards	5.87
Morriss, Roger	Benthamism in the royal dockyards and British public culture, 1750–1850	4.21
Morriss, Roger	The office of the Inspector General of Naval Works and technological innovation in the royal dockyards	1.21
Morriss, Roger	Promise of power. The British maritime economy and the state in the eighteenth century	7.49
Morriss, Roger	Victims, pariahs and survivors. The shaping of the government workforce 1815–1830	3.75
Parsons, Andrea	Royal Clarence Yard, Gosport, Hampshire. Victualling the Navy: the life, death and resurrection of a naval base	3.115
Reay, Justin	"All a-sparkle with gunflashes": The Bay of Rosas in naval literature	9.24
Riley, Ray	Henry Cort and the development of wrought iron manufacture in the 1780s: the naval connection	3.51
Riley, Ray	Marc Brunel's pulley block-making machinery: operation and assessment	1.85
Riley, Ray	Whose heritage? The case of Portsmouth Dockyard	4.45
Rose, Susan	Galleys and round ships: Venetian and English attitudes to ship design and building in the sixteenth century	5.27
Sargent, Edward	The development of dock construction at the royal dockyards in the nineteenth century	4.91
Sheldon, Matthew	A tale of two cities: the facilities, work and impact of the Victualling Office in Portsmouth 1793–1815	1.35
Taaffe, Emma	From mortar mixers to nuclear submarines: extracts from the post-1945 history of Chatham Dockyard	3.81
Thomas, James	Portsmouth yard and town in the age of Nelson	1.93
Thomas, Roger	The building of HMS Dreadnought and Dreadnought battlecruiser gunnery 1905–1916	3.37
Todd, Hilary	Charles, James and the recreation of the Royal Navy 1660–1665	8.45
Tucker, Malcolm	Structural ironwork at Pembroke Dock. A microcosm of naval practice	3.31
Vale, Brian	The conquest of scurvy in the Royal Navy 1783–1800: heroes and villains	6.31
Wilkin, Susan	The contribution of Portsmouth Royal Dockyard to the success of the Royal Navy in the Napoleonic war 1793–1815	1.47